Business Trading Statement - COVID-19 Impact: 18 March 2020

We are all at Hawco continuing to review the impact of the Coronavirus for our staff, customers and suppliers at this challenging time. We have implemented heightened hygiene measures within the business to help protect our staff - and apart from this it is currently 'business as usual'.

In the interests of everyone's safety, we are no longer allowing visitors to our offices until further notice. In addition, our sales team have been instructed not to visit customers in person, but to use the vast array of technology at our disposal to communicate with our customers until further notice as advised by the UK Government.

Our external sales team are contactable as usual on mobile phones and email - and remain on hand for any questions or queries as you would expect.

The inside sales team are being prepared for home working, as are our technical, purchasing and accounts departments. When this action is made necessary, our phone lines, including direct dials, will remain in action.

We have also implemented robust actions at our Bolton warehouse to remain in operation - and currently deliveries remain unaffected.
