Business Trading Statement - COVID-19 Impact:
26 March 2020

At the present time, we are open for business as normal – and we can support our customers in whatever way they need during this challenging and difficult time. We will continue to stay open unless there is a change in government policy that restricts a business like ours.

All Hawco office staff are now working from home in line with the latest UK Government advice regarding the Coronavirus. This includes sales, accounts, purchasing and technical support. Our warehouse in Bolton remains in operation - and deliveries have so far been unaffected.

Heightened hygiene measures are in place at our warehouse to protect staff and customers. We continue to follow current guidelines from the Government and will review and adjust these measures as necessary. If you have any special delivery instructions, make sure these are included with any orders you make - and we will communicate these to our couriers.

You can contact us on the usual phone numbers. All calls are being redirected to our employees at home - so you may experience a delay in being connected. If you are unable to reach us first time, please be patient and simply try again. You can also reach individual members of staff using their direct dial number or mobile number as normal.

We hope that our customers, suppliers and employees are staying safe and wish everyone well.
